Away Days

A group of people, mostly women, are smiling and holding up colorful, speckled ceramic bowls. The bowls have various patterns of small, colorful pieces (like blue, orange, green, and black) embedded in a light-colored base. One person is wearing a wristband that says "TEAM BIKIDE". The background is a solid red color.

Testimonial

'We spent the afternoon at Make with the intention to bring the whole team together to experience something completely different. Honestly, not everyone was enthusiastic beforehand and a couple were a bit worried they'd be outside of their comfort zone. However, the crew at Make were accommodating from the outset and got us to work quickly in two teams. We worked together and individually creating mini masterpieces to take home which we're all very proud of. Every single person has said how much they enjoyed it afterwards. This was certainly up there with one of our most enjoyable and memorable team events and we wouldn't hesitate in recommending this for a team building workshop and would definitely go back for another class in the future!'
